Dearest Nicholas,

*It's time to spread your wings, my son.
And begin your adulthood flight.*

*Your road has many challenges.
Always remember to choose the right.*

*Some tough decisions lay ahead:
We know you'll see them through.*

*We've taught you well - the choice is yours
Dearest Nicholas.*

We'll always love you!

We are so proud of you!

Michael,

You're one of a kind-with your awesome creativity, excellence in sports, your sunny disposition and your positive outlook.

Keep it up and success will be yours. Love, Your Family

To our "Little  Mike":

May life bring you the happiness and success you would feel if it were the bottom of the ninth inning, base loaded, your team down by 3, it's full count and you hit a "Grand Slam"!! Good Luck Mike, we love you

Dear Doug,

Your family and the faculty at LVDS have tried to instill a sound philosophy of life over these past years. However, having sustained seven broken bones, a record number of detentions and an advanced degree in "pluck-pluck" we suspect that you will continue to live by your creed: "Pain is temporary, glory is forever, and chicks dig scars."

Never lose you undying spirit and zest for life...it's what makes you so unique. All our love and best wishes, and remember "Kick ... and more air."

Love
Mom and Dad

She was a sparkle in our eyes the day she was born
She is now our ray of sunshine full of life, love
and hope Congratulations and always keep your beautiful spirit.

Kristen

You were a pre-school dropout. You could not endure the thought of being away from us. On your first day at Kindergarten you stood at the doorway and cried. Now, you have just a few years remaining and you will complete High School.

It won't be much longer until you see your parents standing at the door, crying. Our past is what shapes us for our future. We are so proud of you!

Cheers

Love

Mom, Dad,

Keith, Kasie, Oscar & Rocky

Dear Meredith,

You have made us proud of you, again. Congratulations on your graduation.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Stephen
