Alexis: You have been a miracle in our lives since the day you were born. We wish we could take credit for all your marvelous qualities; your insightfulness and intelligence, generosity, beauty and the ability to bring happiness to others, but, these are all gifts you were born with. Often we have wished we could stop time so we could have a few more moments with you, to watch you discovering life. But here you are, grown into a strong, confident young woman who has learned to make her own choices and does so with thoughtfulness. As you enter the next phase of your life, we wish that above all you stay loving, kind, and that you learn to value yourself and your accomplishments. We are so very proud to be your parents and we want to thank you for giving us so many cherished memories to hold in our hearts. We love you Miss Bird.

Dear Mary,

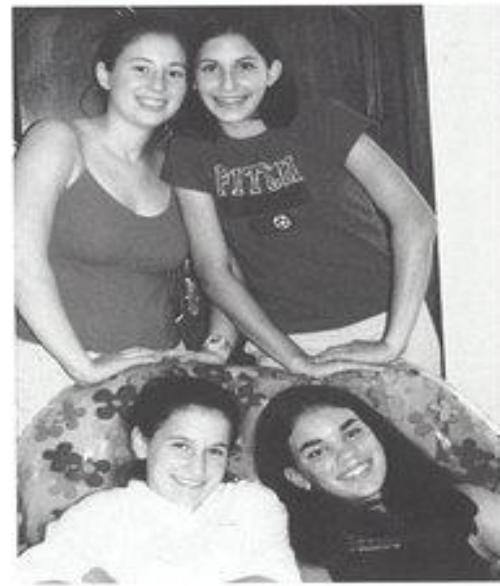

Congratulations, sweetheart, on your graduation. The Day School has taught you well and helped prepare you for life's journey. As you embark upon the rest of your life, always have a goal. It may change from time to time and even seem like an elusive butterfly, but keep after it. Affirm it in your mind each and every day. Ask, "What is it that I want" and "What is it that I need" to be happy? Each morning say, "What can I do today to help me achieve my goals and my objectives" and each night before you fall asleep ask, "What did I do today to help me towards them"? Try your best. Give 110% in everything you do. Be humble in your achievements and you will better handle your disappointments. Take time for fun, make time for friends and make time for family. Be good to yourself. Don't be careless and never forget to thank God for the many gifts and talents He has given you. We love you very much and are all so proud of you,

*May all of your dreams come true,
Love Mom, Dad and Paulie*

Cristin~

We wonder how the time seems to have passed so quickly. From a happy go lucky infant to a focused, beautiful young woman about to enter another chapter in life. What happened in between? Yet through all that time that feels so brief to us, you've grown and developed into such a thoughtful, caring and sensitive person. We're proud of you for that more than anything else. You have a wonderful and bright future ahead of you mostly because we know your heart will always be in the right place. We love you and you'll always have our support!

It's hard to believe that the time is here for you to be graduating your 8th grade year to a young man on a cushman, mowing greens & tees

All though basketball continues to be your all time sport you also excel in things off of the court

And raised a few eyebrows at Mt. Charleston while hiking

And thank God everyday that you are our son,
